Apps from the web
You can get apps from other online app stores using your browser.

Tip: Choose your apps and updates carefully, as some may impact your phone’s performance—see “Choose carefully”.

To let your phone install apps that are not on Google Play, touch Apps > Settings > Security and check Unknown sources.

For information about downloading files from your browser, see “Downloads”.

Choose carefully
Apps are great. There’s something for everyone. Play, communicate, work, or have fun. But remember, choose your apps carefully. Here are a few tips:

- To help prevent spyware, phishing, or viruses from affecting your phone or privacy, use apps from trusted sites, like Google Play Store.
- In Google Play Store, check the app’s ratings and comments before installing.
If you doubt the safety of an app, don’t install it.

Like all apps, downloaded apps will use up memory, data, battery, and processing power—some more than others. For example, a simple battery level widget will use less than a streaming music player app. After installing an app, if you’re not happy with how much memory, data, battery or processing power it’s using, uninstall it. You can always install it again later.

Just like web browsing, you may want to monitor children’s access to apps to help prevent exposure to inappropriate content.

Certain apps may not provide completely accurate information. Take care, especially when it comes to personal health.

Take care of your apps

From your home screen touch Apps , then swipe left to scroll through apps. To close the apps screen, touch Home or Back .

- Uninstall apps: Touch Apps > Settings > Apps. Swipe left to ALL, touch an app, then touch Disable or Uninstall in the top right (if available).

  Disable removes the app from your menu—to Enable it, reopen this window and touch Enable (disabled apps are at the bottom of the list).

  If an app locks up your phone as soon as you turn it on, restart in Safe Mode: Turn off your phone, then turn it back on—when you see the “Motorola” logo during power-up, press and hold both volume keys until you see the home screen, with Safe Mode in the lower left. Then, try removing the app.

- Reinstall apps: To reinstall apps from Google Play Store, touch Apps > Play Store, then touch My apps. The apps you downloaded are listed and available for download.

- See or clear app details: Touch Apps > Settings > Apps. A bar at the bottom tells you how much app storage space you have left. Swipe left or right to see the list of DOWNLOADED, RUNNING, or ALL apps, then touch an app in the list to see its details and storage usage. You can touch Clear data, Clear cache, or other options.

  Tip: To quickly see app details, touch Apps , touch and hold an app, then drag it to App info.

In such cases, neither the product nor any damage resulting therefrom will be covered by warranty.

Important FCC information: You must not make or enable any changes to the product that will impact its FCC grant of equipment authorization. The FCC grant is based on the product’s emission, modulation, and transmission characteristics, including power levels, operating frequencies and bandwidths, SAR levels, duty cycles, transmission mode (e.g., CDMA, GSM), and intended method of using the product (e.g., how the product is held or used in proximity to the body). A change to any of these factors will invalidate the FCC grant. It is illegal to operate a transmitting product without a valid grant.

Location Services
Motorola mobile devices can provide information about their approximate location to applications, using sources including GPS, AGPS, and Wi-Fi. GPS (Global Positioning System) uses government-operated satellites that are subject to changes implemented in accordance with Department of Defense policy and the Federal Radio Navigation Plan. These changes may affect the performance of location technology on your mobile device.

AGPS (Assisted Global Positioning System) uses your wireless service provider’s network to improve GPS performance. Airtime, data fees, and/or additional charges may apply in accordance with your service plan. Contact your wireless service provider for details. Your mobile device can also use Wi-Fi signals to determine your approximate location, using information from known and available Wi-Fi networks. Mobile devices transmit location-based information when connected to a wireless network or when using other location technologies like GPS. If you use applications that require location-based information such as driving directions, your mobile device will provide location information to them. These applications may share location information with third parties, including your wireless service provider, applications providers, Motorola, and other third parties providing services.

Emergency Calls
When you make an emergency call, the cellular network may activate the AGPS technology in your mobile device to tell the emergency responders your approximate location.

AGPS has limitations and might not work in your area. Therefore:
• Always tell the emergency responder your location to the best of your ability, and
• Remain on the call as long as the emergency responder instructs you.

Navigation
If your Motorola mobile device provides navigation features, note that mapping information, directions, and other navigational data may contain inaccurate or incomplete data. In some countries, complete information may not be available. Therefore, you should visually confirm that the navigational instructions are consistent with what you see. All drivers should pay attention to road conditions, closures, traffic, and all other factors that may impact driving. Always obey posted road signs.

Privacy & Data Security
Motorola understands that privacy and data security are important to everyone. Because some features of your mobile device may affect your privacy or data security, please follow these recommendations to enhance protection of your information:
• Monitor access: Keep your mobile device with you and don’t leave it where others may have unmonitored access. Use your device’s security and lock features, where available.
• Keep software up to date: If Motorola or a software/application vendor releases a patch or software fix for your mobile device that updates the device’s security, install it as soon as possible.
• Secure Personal Information: Your mobile device can store personal information in various locations, including your SIM card, memory card, and phone memory. Be sure to remove or clear all personal information before you recycle, return, or give away your device. You can also backup your personal data to transfer to a new device.

Note: For information on how to backup or wipe data from your mobile device, go to www.motorola.com/support

Hearing Aid Compatibility in the US

In the US, specific hearing aid compatibility (HAC) performance ratings can help clarify how certain wireless phones and hearing aids may perform together: HAC-compliant wireless phones are capable of working with hearing aids that have a minimal immunity rating of at least 2. The immunity rating indicates how susceptible a hearing aid is to picking up interference from a digital wireless phone. It can rate the performance of the hearing aid for either microphone and/or telecoil coupling. Some hearing aids are more immune than others to this interference noise, and phones also vary in the amount of interference they generate. The US performance rating system for HAC-compliant wireless phones is as follows:

The "M" (microphone) indicates that the product has been tested and rated for acoustic coupling. The higher the "M" rating (e.g., "M4" or "M3/T3"), the higher the immunity rating and the less likely the hearing aid user will experience interference when the hearing aid is set to the microphone coupling mode. The highest values to date are 3 and 4 (e.g., "M4" or "M3/T3").

To determine if a product is rated for HAC, please look for the HAC rating or logo on your device’s packaging. For a list of current HAC models, visit www.motorola.com/hacphones.
